[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

EASTERN DATES TO JAN. 30.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

Spanish Affairs.

MADRID, Jan. 29.—The Capital and Provinces are now quiet.

The only immediately change in the Ministry will probably be the withdrawal of Gasindo.

Ship Burned at Sea.

LONDON, Jan. 29.—An arrival at Liverpool brings the report that the ship Avoca, of St. John, N. B., was burned at sea. It is feared that all on board perished.

French Affairs.

PARIS, Jan. 29.—Count de Chambord has issued a manifesto to the French people. The Count claims, as of yore, the right divine, and says: "I shall never abdicate my claim to the Throne of France. I shall never forsake the monarchical principles which I have preserved intact for forty years, and which is the best hope of France's greatness and liberties. Cæsarism is scarcely in France, because her salvation is sought in personal questions and not in principles. I shall ever uphold the flag of France and aid in restoring the ancient prestige of her armies. Time presses, alliances and recognitions are urgent. The happiness of France is my only ambition, and I never will consent to become a revolutionist where I am legitimate King."

A committee of patrons of the movement for raising subscriptions to pay the German indemnity, have to-day announced their preference for a national loan of four milliard francs.

Earthquake in Asiatic Russia.

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 29.—Intelligence was received here to-day of the total destruction yesterday, by earthquake, of Schumachi, a town of Asiatic Russia in Trans-Caucasia. From a few details of this terrible disaster it is learned, that the shocks were very protracted and that many lives were lost.

CALIFORNIA.

The Snow Blockade.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 30.—Postal Agent Barstow, telegraphs from Ogden that the blockade on the Union Pacific railroad is worse than ever. The passenger train which [illegible] days since is still [illegible] miles from Ogden, and there is no prospect for an immediate change for the better.

Short Paragraphs.

The San Francisco Pacific, an religious paper, thinks that the last Legislature of that State made a mistake when it repealed the law prohibiting the carrying of concealed weapons.

It is intimated that Gortschakoff has no objection to the kicking out of Catacazy, provided it were done in a genteel style. Diplomacy would prefer the sweet courtesies of life even in a hooting!

The San Francisco Commercial Herald says: There is no need of capital in California; there is enough and to spare, but it is to be handled and managed that at least half of it might as well be in London or in the moon.

Paris has invented a lively political plaything in the shape of a guillotine of vapor, which can decapitate sixty men an hour. It is in steel and bronze, the knife moving up and down without ceasing. The body is to fall in a reservoir of lime, the head in a bath of oil.

An independent Alaska company has been formed, which proposes to buy skins and other produce of that icy land rejected by the lessees under the Government. As the latter, however, claim the exclusive right of trade in those regions, the intruders will probably have notice to quit.

In Tennessee twelve adults are unable to read and write to every one hundred of the inhabitants, and the State pays internal revenue of the rate of sixty-nine cents per capita, while Ohio, in which there are four illiterate adults to every one hundred inhabitants, pays five dollars and sixty-eight cents internal revenue per capita.

In a recent report issued by the Gazette of India the startling statement is made that the aggregate number of deaths by wild beasts throughout the [illegible] Bombay, Bengal, the Northwestern provinces, Punjaub, Oude, Central provinces, Coorg, Hyderabad and British Burmah, for three years, amounts to 12,554. The deaths from snakebites over the same area number 25,664, making a total of 38,218.

The annual statement of the foreign trade of Great Britian has just been issued for 1870, but only the grand totals have reached us. The total values of imports from foreign countries was £338,422,000, and from the colonies £64,832,413; aggregating a value of £303,257,493, against £305,460,214 in 1869. The exports during the year 1870 were of British produce and manufacture to the value of £199,686,822, and of foreign and colonial produce £44,493,755, an aggregate of £244,080,577, against £237,015,052 in 1869.

Some three years ago Austria repudiated a portion of her funded debt by compelling her creditors to submit to conversion at a loss. This dishonest proceeding has been punished in a curious way by the London Stock Exchange, all Austrian government securities having been struck from the lists and their quotation prohibited. The Hungarian government now wishes to negotiate a loan of $15,000,000 on the London market, but on making proposals is met by the prohibition, and told that, though not perhaps directly responsible, it is jointly responsible for Austria on its credit, to pay five per cent on $25,000,000 of Austrian bonds, or about one-third of the loss suffered by the creditors, and on these terms has been allowed to come again upon the market. As Austria remains in the same position as ever, and the effect is such that it is difficult or impossible to get money for any American enterprise.

OREGON.

A gang of burglars are reporting about Dayton.

Salem mills still offer $1 05 per bushel for wheat.

Several churches at Salem are holding religious services on each evening of the present week.

The railroad company are laying off an addition to the town of Oakland. That town will soon be a smart place.

There is an embargo on Coos Bay commerce. Cause, the logs cannot run, not having been inspected, and vessels cannot get towage in or out.

Wrestling Joe is now at Salem, and attorneys are with him taking testimony. The Caruthers estate is a remarkably "fat take" for the lawyers.

A man named Sanderson of Lane county was stopped by a highwayman near Winchester, Douglas county, a few days ago, and robbed of forty dollars.

Richard Dibal, of Marion county, has received a letter from Senator Corbett announcing that a patent will soon issue for an improved wagon wheel which Mr. Dural has invented.

The Statesman complains that church-goers at Salem pick up hats and stalk out of church before the doxology at the close of the service is finished. It seems to be a local custom.

The Farmer says: The Pioneer Oil Company of Salem offer as special premiums on tax seventy dollars on the best ten acres, and fifty five dollars on the second best, to be awarded by the State Agricultural Society at its next State Fair. The Society also offer thirty and twenty dollars as first and second premiums, making, in all, one hundred dollars for best ten acres, and seventy five dollars for second best.

THE TROOPS IN CHICAGO—GEN. SHERIDAN'S OFFICIAL REPORT.—The Chicago papers publish Lieut. Gen. Sheridan's official account to the Secretary of War, giving a full report of the operations of the military in Chicago, during and subsequent to, the great fire. We quote the last paragraph:

"In conclusion, I beg leave to say to the Honorable Secretary of War, that in the performance of the duties above enumerated, that I never for one moment thought of infringing or abrogating any of the civil laws; that my only desire was to aid the civil authorities of this city to carry the heavy burdens which had fallen on them by an unparalleled calamity. If his Excellency, Governor Palmer, had, on the 11th of October, when I saw him personally, intimated that my course was distasteful to him I would have accepted any wise suggestions which he might have made to satisfy the demands of a people prostrated and sick at heart from the loss of a very large part of their beautiful city. I was sure in my motives as are those of the whole world who are now sending their charities here to relieve the distressed."

The Houston, Texas, Union says: The rapid extension of the railroads—the Central, the Western Branch, the Great Northern, the International, the Missouri-Kansas, the Texas Pacific and others—have had such an awakening effect upon the minds and material interests of the people that a man who opposes or quibbles about them is voted a fogy and a bore, and will not be listened to. On with the railroads is the cry everywhere all over Texas. And they are going on and winning, the support and confidence of the people of the State. Railroads alone can develop Texas into a rich and prosperous State.

Last Night's Dispatches.

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

EASTERN STATES.

From New Orleans.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 29.—The Congressional Committee commenced its investigations this forenoon in the United States Court room in the custom house building. The Government had been consulted and had no objection to the committee using the court room. If the Government had objected the committee would have met elsewhere. Only one witness, J. H. Burch (colored Carpetbagger) was examined. His statements took a wide range. The object of the committee seems to be to hear a general statement from one of each faction in order to arrive at the points which require their attention.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, JANUARY 31, 1872.

The "Herald" on Swamp Lands.

The Herald once more undertakes an essay on swamp lands. We extract this from its latest effort:

How stands the case? By the legislation of Congress, Oregon is entitled to the swamp and overflowed lands of the State, given to her with the express condition that they shall be reclaimed so as to be useful to the country. The policy which seeks to possess the State of these lands, and to comply with the conditions of Congress to that end, was inaugurated by the present State administration. The State proposes to let actual settlers have these lands, in small bodies, not exceeding 320 acres to each settler, upon easy conditions, by which, while the State makes something, the settler has the chance to make much more.

For downright misrepresentation the whole fraternity of swamp land advocates might be challenged to equal this. It is surely a very lively imagination that so disdains the truth. The State, it is alleged, "proposes to let actual settlers have these lands, in small bodies, not exceeding 320 acres to each settler." Where, in the act, is anything of this kind to be found? It is not there. The Herald invents its facts for the justification of those who are responsible for this odious act. Under the act the State does not "propose to let actual settlers have the lands in small bodies." It proposes to let speculators have them in unlimited quantities. Further, it gives the speculators ten years to pay for the lands, by which time the lands will be enhanced in value beyond all calculation.

Look at the scandalous job there is in this scheme. The act makes no provision for competition in the sale of public lands, but allows them all to go at the uniform price of one dollar an acre. In many instances this is ridiculously low. One man can buy up all the lands he covets. No bounds are set to the capacity of speculation. And then, as if to make the whole business a mockery of right and justice, the applicant or purchaser is allowed ten years in which to pay four-fifths of the purchase money, and the State does not even get interest! When we add to this the shameful fact that the present swamp land ring, assisted by the Governor, have been endeavoring to get all their "selections" approved by the Department,—an effort which, if successful, would open a door to additional frauds of the most profligate and extravagant kind,—we may then have a view of some of the consequences of the scheme on whose beauties the litigant organs of Oregon, at the command of the State ring, descant in such sounding style.

The Herald, we observe, in the article from which we have taken the above extract, sets out with wonderful profession of candor and fairness. "If," it says, "we were a partisan only, we should rejoice at the course pursued by the Radical press in reference to the swamp and other lands of this State. But we trust we have higher aims." Here, indeed, is tremendous candor. It is to be supposed that the Herald commenced its article in this style because it was intending on this occasion to go far beyond its usual limits of misrepresenting, and so threw forward these phrases, as pioneers and skirmishers are sent in advance of a line of battle, to clear the way.

Our neighbor, too, is much concerned about Senator Corbett. It regrets that he has taken a stand against these swamp land jobs, regrets it, of course for his sake. And it will be "numb mistaken" if the Senator does not soon regret it too. We venture to think, however, that unless the Herald can bring something better to support this swamp land scheme than its own bald fabrications, it will be very apt to regret it itself.

Missouri Movement.

There is an effort in Missouri to continue the political coalition whereby Gratz Brown was elected in 1870. The Democratic State Central Committee has officially endorsed the "passive policy," and a general jubilee has been had over the surrender. To meet this advance on the part of the Democracy the Gratz Brown faction have held a Convention and published a platform. There is nothing whatever in their platform which the Republican party does not accept; but the carping, captious spirit in which the platform is put forth shows that it is conceived in personal hostility to Grant, and that the movement has no other basis. A call for a National Mass Convention to meet at Cincinnati on the first Wednesday of May is made, at which such action will be taken as "convictions of duty and public exigency require." Doubtless the object is to exert some influence on the Republican National Convention, which it seems to be conceded, will renomin[illegible] Grant. The leaders of this Missouri movement really hope to prevent this, by making threats of a general "bolt." Senator Schurz is prominent in the movement.

The Sacramento Union has a clear idea of the swamp land swindle in this State. It says that "Oregon has been put in the way to have her lands monopolized, and the land-sharks have availed themselves of this choice opportunity." Also that the "law of the last Democratic Legislature of Oregon (relative to the swamp lands) is like a massacre of savages; neither age, sex nor condition is spared." The Union further says that the last Democratic Legislature of California "demolished all restrictions upon the purchase of swamp lands, and four million acres belonging to the State were immediately gobbled up by a few capitalists." It appears that the example for all our plundering legislation was borrowed from the last Legislature of California, which was so profligate that the people could not tolerate another like it, and hence the recent Republican triumph there. What with litigant bills, swamp-land grabbing and other profligate vices borrowed from California, Oregon Democracy will have enough to carry.

The Statesman is pointing out some of the beauties of the litigant law. It says that the litigant organ at Salem has one column of litigant and ten of other advertisements, but that the one column of litigant advertising brings in as much money as the other ten. This enormous swindle on the public was devised expressly to keep Democratic organs alive. The Statesman, after having shown the above fact, waits patiently to receive from the litigant organs the next homily in favor of honesty and against corruption.

After all that has been said about the "general order business" in the New York Custom House, it turns out that this, as well as most other abuses in the public service, was instituted by the Democratic party. This business dates back to 1854, when "general order" warehouses were established. It was part of the old Democratic system of creating Government patronage exclusively for political purposes, and the Republicans should have abolished it long ago.

A Question of Priority.

Some have supposed that a legal controversy was likely to arise between the Oregon Central and Northern Pacific Railroad Companies out of a conflict of land grants in Oregon. The grant to Astoria, claimed by the Oregon Central, and the grant from Portland to Puget Sound, claimed by the Northern Pacific, in some places overlap each other to a considerable extent, and it may be that litigation will be resorted to to decide the rights of the respective companies.

It will not be amiss to state the leading facts in regard to the two grants. The grant to the Oregon Central became a law on the 4th May, 1870. The company has complied with the conditions of the grant by building the first section of the road within the time prescribed. This section was finished and accepted by the Commissioners some weeks ago, although by law the Company had till next May to complete this part of the work. The Oregon Central is therefore in advance of the requirements of the law.

The first grant to the Northern Pacific, made some years ago, was for a railroad crossing the Cascade mountains far toward the north and terminating at Puget Sound. Early in 1869 Congress passed an act to allow it to extend its branch line from Portland to some suitable point on Puget Sound, to be determined by the company. But it was expressly provided that this act should carry no grant of lands except such as might be necessary for right of way. This act was approved on the 10th April, 1869. It will be seen that the Northern Pacific obtained no subsidy under it that can conflict with the Oregon Central.

Again, in May, 1870, subsequent to the passage of the act granting a land subsidy to the Oregon Central, Congress amended the grant to the Northern Pacific authorizing the company to build its main road to Puget Sound via the valley of the Columbia river, instead of by way of one of the northern passes of the Cascade mountains. By this act a subsidy of lands was granted, embracing the usual number of sections per mile. This bill became a law on the 31st May, 1870, or four weeks after the grant to the Oregon Central became a law. The first section of road on the Oregon Central was completed before the first section on the Northern Pacific was; hence as the grant to the Oregon Central was prior in point of time and as it was ahead in building the first section of road it is not easy to see what ground the Northern Pacific can find for contesting the land grant.

The Gulf Stream.

Dr. Hayes has contributed an article to the Galaxy for January, which goes to show that many of the speculations and assertions which have become popular, regarding the Gulf Stream, are incorrect or exaggerated. He says the precise limits of the Gulf Stream are yet to be determined. Wherever the particular point of its beginning may be, however, it is pretty certainly ascertained that the stream itself is produced by a current of air formed from the northeast and southeast trade winds. This current "heaps up" the waters in the Gulf of Mexico, to use Franklin's phrase, and because it comes from tropical regions, warms them. A current of water, of warmer temperature than the average temperature of the waters of the Gulf of Mexico, is thus formed. This current flows eastward and northward along the coast of North America under the continued influence of the wind. Its rate of speed diminished as the power of the wind diminishes, and its temperature lowers, though less rapidly, as its waters mingle with the colder waters below and on either side of it.

Soon, one branch running north into the Arctic Ocean, and the other going eastward toward the coast of Europe. There are no facts known, however, to sustain this belief. Whatever currents may flow in these directions can be accounted for by the force of the winds which prevail in those parts. It is thought that the Gulf Stream disappears in the northern point in the waters of the surrounding ocean, gradually losing its peculiarities in its northward course.

As to the effects produced upon the climate of North America by the Gulf Stream, Dr. Hayes denies that there is a single fact to show that it exerts any influence at all. Its current is to the waters of the Atlantic ocean as a tiny rivulet is to the broad acres through which it finds its way, and the effects in the two cases are about alike. At New port, for example, whose delicious climate is popularly thought to be due to the benign influence of the Gulf Stream, its waters are one hundred and fifty miles distant, while the prevalent winds are westerly, and how temperature can "bent a windward" for that distance is a question not yet satisfactorily answered. The fact appears to be that, when unconfined, receives no perceptible accession of heat from water. Numerous experiments have been made, confirmatory of this proposition, and a negative proof is found in the slight influence produced upon the temperature by the presence of icebergs. The mild climate of Norway and the British Isles is produced by currents of air laden with warmth and moisture, and not by the influence of the Gulf Stream.

Artificial Ivory.—By means of a simple and ingenious process, a beautiful description of artificial ivory is now produced from india rubber. In the first place, two pounds of pure rubber are dissolved in thirty-two pounds of chloroform, and the solution is then saturated with a current of ammonia gas. When the rubber has been completely bleached, the admission of the gas interrupted, the mass is then transferred to a vessel provided with a stirrer, in which it is washed with hot water until the bleaching agent has been entirely removed. During the operation the temperature may be increased to 185 degrees Fahrenheit, in order to evaporate the chloroform, which by conducting it in an apparatus of condensation, may again be made use of. The remaining product forms a kind of froth, which, being pressed out, dried, and again treated with a small quantity of chloroform, is finally obtained as a consistent paste. This is now mixed with a sufficient quantity of phosphate of lime, or carbonate of zinc, until it assumes the appearance of moist flour. In this condition it is pressed into hot molds, which it leaves sufficiently hard to be turned, planed, filed, or bored. In order to imitate corals, pearls, enamels, hard wood, etc., it is only necessary to mix the paste with the desired colors previously to its being compressed.

Loss by Abrasion.—Julius Jeffreys, F. R. S., commenting on the statement made by "A Banker," that a single bank has lost £7,000 in one year by light gold through abrasion, ascribes a good deal of this loss to the steel edges of bankers' shovels. Having gone to the Bank of England to invite attention to what appeared to be a palpable defect in the form of the coin, Mr. Jeffreys was struck, on entering, "by the glittering aspect of the whole counter upon which the sun happened to be shining. Myriads of particles of gold were reflecting the sunlight to the eye, as if purposely to confirm the object of my visit. It was manifest that these particles had been struck off from the sovereigns which had changed hands over the counter, I presume that day, and mainly by the sharp steel edges of the shovels in each endeavor to undermine the coins. It was also plain that in the mutual friction of the coins, the milled edges must do the work of mutual rasp[illegible] as effectively as any form that could be chosen with that design."

SHORT PARAGRAPHS.

The number of Roman Catholics in Europe is 148,600,000; of Protestants, 71,000,000, and of Jews, 4,800,000.

The new Territory of Ojibway will be crossed about midway by the Northern Pacific Railroad, and will contain a large area of fertile and well watered lands.

There is a curious coincidence in the debts of New York, Pennsylvania and Massachusetts. That of New York is $20,482,702; that of Massachusetts is $20,000,364; while that of Pennsylvania is reported as nearly $20,000,000.

The efforts to stimulate the growth of Duluth are of all sorts. Four thousand dollars have been raised to be given as premiums in 1873, to persons clearing and improving the most and the best farm lands within twelve miles of the city proper.

A Washington correspondent of the Boston Journal speaks of those Congressmen who urged a civil service reform and are now opposing the scheme of the Commission, as imitators of that worthy citizen of Maine who, when asked his opinion of the prohibitory liquor act, replied: "Waal, I'm fur the law, but agin its execution."

The first test case in the Treasury Department under the new civil service rules of appointment to office is the appointment to fill the office of Controller of Currency. The appointment of the present incumbent expires shortly, and the appointment is open to persons of both sexes. The great fear is that the appointment may be filled by some party who may perhaps pass a first-rate examination, but who may be in every respect unfit for the position.

NEWS CONDENSATIONS.

The telegraph says: "It is reported that the Union Pacific railroad is to pass into the control of Vanderbilt. Should such be the case, we hope he will find means to keep it open during the winter.

The English Government, it is said, is startled at the amount of the Alabama claims. If that had been thought of when the ships were allowed to be fitted out to prey upon our commerce, their present startling, and the great future one when pay-day arrives, would have been saved.

There is a movement on foot calculated to procure the cession of all the territory east of the Sierras now in California, to the State of Nevada. For the purpose of attaining this object, the Governor of Nevada, it is said, has sent a commission to the California Legislature.

One hundred and fifty-nine suits have been commenced against the Staten Island Ferry Company for damages by the Westfield explosion. In the first case decided, the jury gave $5,000 damages to a woman whose husband was killed. Should that sum be the average, and the company [illegible] cases, they will probably look to their boilers in future.

Population of Japan.—Now that the attention of our people is attracted to Japan by the presence of a number of the governing class in our midst, the following extract from a recent number of the Overland Monthly, will be of interest:

The census returns, which were compiled from the Government archives at Yeddo, fully confirm the oft-repeated statements that Japan is one of the most thickly populated countries known. According to this present census, it contains 34,786,321 people, of which 17,686,700 are returned as males, and 17,193,621 females. It is remarkable that the number of males and females are so equal. The Mikado (Emperor), with the family of royal blood, 29; the Daimios (the feudal lords of the country), with their families, 3,186; the Samurai (the two-sworded class and literati), supported by the Government, 1,872,959. The farmers, mechanics, merchants and laborers number 31,954,821. These pay all the taxes, do all the work, and support in idleness, including the priests, over 2,500,000 of consumers. The outcasts, or interdicted class, number 156,655. These people live mostly in communities by themselves, and are not allowed to intermarry with their more favored brethren. The number of Buddhist priests is set down at 245,860. The Sintoo doctrine is the religion supported by the Government, and the priests of this faith number 163,140, being less than the Buddhist. There are 6,711 nuns of both sects. The blind, maimed, halt, including beggars, number 82,920; and of dwellings, there are 7,092,728, giving an average for each house, of nearly five persons.

Anecdote of Goethe.—Goethe was, for a time, manager of an amateur theater at Weimar. Once, when the "Jealous Husband" was to be performed; the gentleman who was to act the lover was suddenly taken ill. A Saxon Captain good-naturedly undertook to play the part, although he confessed he had but little experience in such matters. He went through the rehearsals very decently, and there was little doubt but that with the help of a good prompter, all would go on well. But when the poor Captain actually appeared before the audience he seemed to lose all memory, still he continued to halt on until the jealous husband was to rush in and stab him. At this unlucky moment he forgot his catchword, and continued hemming for several minutes while the furious husband was standing between the side scenes with uplifted dagger, ready to strike. The Captain was about to begin his part afresh, catchwords and all, when, on the advice of Goethe, the husband rushed in and with one desperate lunge thought to silence him. Not so; the Captain stood like a wall. "It was to no purpose that his adversary entreated him, in a low voice to fall and die. "I have not got the catchword," was the invariable reply. At last Goethe, quite out of patience, called from behind the scenes, "Stab him in the back if he won't fall—we must get rid of him at all events." Upon this, the husband, who had lost all presence of mind, cried with a voice of thunder—"Die!" and gave the Captain at the same time such a blow that the Captain actually fell down from the shock, upon which Goethe, fearing his resuscitation, instantly sent in four stout servants with orders to carry him off, dead or alive, by main force.

Failure of many of the most eminent physicians of San Francisco to cure a case of Rheumatism.—Triumph of the Unk Weed Remedy.

San Jose, August 22, 1871.

Dr. A. M. Lourea & Co.: This is to certify that I, the undersigned, have been sick for five years with Rheumatism, and have been treated for many months. My trouble has been weakness of the back and side, and wandering pains all over my body. I have been treated by many of the most eminent physicians of San Francisco, as well as of this city, but, without any effect. At last I was induced to try your UNK WEED REMEDY, and the result was that after taking the contents of two bottles I found myself perfectly cured. To all afflicted with Rheumatism, I say TRY THE UNK WEED REMEDY, and you will be cured. Yours truly,

JAMES AHERN, San Jose.

WHAT'S THE DIFFERENCE

Between our Local Companies and the

NEW ENGLAND MUTUAL?

THE DIFFERENCE IS JUST THIS: OUR LOCAL Companies are under the control of Stock Holders and Directors, who squeeze the orange and give you the peel. They have had little experience in the business, and are about as likely to go wrong as right; their running expenses are over thirty per cent. of their income; their Policies are forfeited on non-payment of premium, and are subject to attachment beyond a certain amount, and they are allowed by law to invest their capital in mining stocks, which have already cleaned out a host of men in this country, and may do the same again. On the other hand, look at the old time honored

NEW ENGLAND MUTUAL,

Only thirty-seven years old—purely mutual—dividing all profits among the insured; no Stockholders, managed by men with the experience of a quarter of a century, with a big accumulated capital and reserve fund; economical in expenses; all Policies non-forfeitable and exempt from execution to any amount; prohibited by State law from engaging in any wild-cat speculations, and to cap the whole, divided last winter $780,197 56 cash among its Policy-holders; while our home companies have not distributed a cent, except some thousands of dollars to stockholders, and nobody knows when they are likely to. Do you see the point?

You, Ides and I'll insure with the New England. I'll see the Superintendent of Agencies, JOS. MIDDLEMISS, Oregon Office, at Salesroom, No. 8 Front St., and let him send my application to the General Agent, WALLACE BYERSON.

Pianoforte, Guitar and Organ.

RECENTLY FROM THE EAST, AND MORE RECENTLY from San Francisco, is stopping at GEO. W. HILLMAN'S, No. 200 Second street, next to the New Congregational Church, where she would be glad to see all interested in music, and wish to learn to play in the shortest possible time. By this method a person sees at sight what the fingers are required to perform, giving a more thorough knowledge of harmony and thorough bass; learning to play the Piano and Organ in one-half the time of the old method. Prof. Gray now has an immediate call and inquire what the method is.

The Daily Oregonian.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, JANUARY 31, 1872.

CITY

IN THE POLICE COURT.—There were high old times yesterday in the Police Court. The old stagers were not all there—because why—there were in that hitched institution, the jail; but there were all sorts of appropriate substitutes. Kate Sloper, an untamed belle from the "court of death," acknowledged a charge of being drunk and disorderly, and paid a dollar's down. John Wilson and two Chinamen forfeited each ten dollars on a similar charge. Another Chinaman commenced a term of thirty days in the county jail for stealing opium. Fred. Moss was up on a charge of threatening to kill Charles Dessomer, but the charge was not proved, and Fred was sent away. Charles Dessomer was charged with criminal intermeddling in the domestic affairs of Fred. Moss who has a woman; but he, too, was discharged. Susan Ellsworth, a lager beer jerker, was sent to jail for thirty-five days for going through the pockets of Charles Smith, to the tune of $8. And thus and thus to the end of the chapter.

THE SHOOTING ACCIDENT.—The shooting of Mr. J. H. Reed's little boy proves to have been a very serious matter. The pistol ball entered the right breast just above the nipple, and still remains in the body. Yesterday the case was considered by the attending surgeons as very dangerous. The shooting was purely accidental. Several boys were playing together at Glisk Lake, having among them a small pistol. One of the boys was trying to cock the weapon when it was accidentally discharged, the ball entering the person of Mr. Reed's boy who happened to be standing before it and near by. The little fellow took the matter quite heroically, at first, pulling off his coat himself to see how badly he was hurt. He is a bright, intelligent lad, and the unfortunate accident is deeply deplored by all his playmates and the friends of the family. The circumstance furnishes a sad warning to both parents and boys against the practice among the latter of carrying or handling weapons.

DESERTER ARRESTED.—A couple of deserters from the Twenty-third Infantry were arrested on board the railroad ferryboat yesterday, just in the act of leaving the city. They left their command at Vancouver, in the regiment at Fort Vancouver, and have been straying around this section ever since, subsisting upon cold charities when they could get 'em, and when they couldn't to any better upon the fruits of their own labors. Their last place of abode before coming to the city a couple of days ago was at the front on the Oregon and California Railroad, where they had passed for day laborers. They were attracted, however, to the city, having heard that their regiment had gone to Arizona, and now they abide in the city jail till they can be turned over to the military authorities. Their names are Jones and Berry.

ARRIVAL OF THE ONEIDA.—The steamship Oneida, Floyd, Commander, arrived from San Francisco at 6 o'clock last evening. The following is a list of her passengers:

Wm L Hailey and wife, Mrs J Dougherty and children, W W House and wife, Mrs C J Bingham, Mrs Hamilton and daughter, Mrs J D Felts and 3 children, H Smith, M A King, J E Dorland, Miss C Cook and mother, T Lea, Mrs Wallace, Mr Ballou, S Foster, E F Lewis, Miss Anna Caffrey, L L Peck, Miss M E Coyle, Mrs B J Baker, H Morgan, Mrs L H Wakefield D H B Mead, B S Porter, wife and 2 children, Mrs Frost, H Johnson, D Mackey, J W Johnson, wife and child, 72 U S troops and 7 Chinamen.

NEW LAWS FOR JAIL.—One of our cotemporaries has been favored with the details of a trial, "short and lively punishment of a Chinaman, in the city jail, for the offence of stealing a pair of pants from a fellow prisoner. Having found the Chinaman guilty, the bailiff of the court proceeded to execute the sentence—thirty stripes which were laid on with a flat board, in the old fashioned way, known to most urchins at 'spanking.'" It is stated that the "healing" amusement is frequently practiced upon new comers, and that the more lawless of the old and regular gang of inmates have had to be subjected to severer discipline than mere confinement as a means of restraint.

DOWN THE RIVER.—The Pilot Townsman arrived from Astoria at six o'clock last evening, having met with no hindering ice. There was very little running at all till the steamer got to the mouth of the Wallamet. The ship was in port on her cargo can be cried with the Wm Nelson at St. Helens. She had been aground but had got off. The bark Alice Tracy was above the St. Helens bar, waiting for high tide to try the passage. The tug Mastodon is coming up after the bark Webfoot. These are the only vessels in the river.

THE GREAT FURNITURE SALE.—The sale of the Occidental Hotel furniture was concluded yesterday. Considering all things the goods were well sold. By no means other than an auction could an equal amount of money have been realized for such goods, and Mr. Middlemiss understood thoroughly how to make the most out of even an auction. He is a new comer among us, but if his enterprise thus far may be taken as an average sample of the man, there is no risk in predicting that he will be a success.

FIZZLE, DRIZZLE.—The weather yesterday rounded quite decently to the east-by-nix-nor-sou'-east or somewhere in that neighborhood, and made a feeble effort to become gentle and showery. The first spell of rain, however, was hail, and then the thermometer went down to a very uncomfortable degree and staid there. Altogether the change was not favorable, and the rain so confidently predicted by some of the weather wise people is still a thing of the unborn future.

OVERCOAT THIEVES.—Two men were arrested yesterday on Fifth street, on suspicion that they are the persons that stole an overcoat a few days since from the store of Mr. Silver. The first one arrested protested that he was not the thief, but he could point out the man who did do the stealing. The second one arrested was the man thus pointed out.

WRESTLING JOE.—The attorneys in the Wrestling Joe case are still rustling the old hair around. We see by the Salem Statesman that they have the old gentleman at Salem, for the purpose of procuring depositions. The inquiries of that paper think he has a becoming sprinkle down and disheartened look," whatever that may be.

ANOTHER TO A YOUNG GIRL.—Yesterday a young girl, one of the pupils of the St. Helen's Hall school, was thrown from a buggy in which she was sitting, and had one of her wrists broken. The horse took sudden fright at something and turning short around, upset the carriage, thus precipitating the girl to the ground.

THE PLANK ROAD EXTENSION.—The incorporators of the Portland and Washington County Plank Road Company will hold a meeting next Monday evening to organize, make arrangements for the opening of stock books, etc. The meeting will be at the office of Stitzel & Upton.

FIRE ALARM.—One of the wooden buildings on the east side of Front, between Alder and Morrison, furnished occasion for an alarm and a turnout of the Fire Department. It was not much of a fire, however, and the reporters were disgusted.

CONCERT PROGRAMME.—The programme for the concert to be given by the Cathedral Choir and others, appears in our columns in full and corrected from yesterday morning.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

MUSIC.—The evidences of Mrs. M. C. White's success as a teacher of music are constantly multiplying in the community. At the request of some of her patrons, we take occasion to say that no one of them regrets having paid her prices for tuition. Mrs. White refers confidently to the progress her pupils have made.

AUCTION SALE.—Mr. Middlemiss proposes to keep things going lively. Next Tuesday he will have another great sale of desirable goods at his sale rooms, No. 8 Front street.

THE next school term of the Portland Academy and Female Seminary begins Monday, February 5th. For information apply to

T. F. ROYAL, Principal.

NO CHARGE FOR CONSULTATION.—Dr. Ahern wishes to inform the afflicted that he makes no charge for consultations. His opinion in all cases is given free of charge.

LOCAL MATTERS.

The market is humming, well supplied with venison.

Another large mail was received last evening per steamer Orilamme.

The proposed new military company is said to have 48 names on the roll.

A man named Grimm fell on Front street yesterday and broke his ankle.

The Dallas mail carrier had arrived at the Cascades on Monday and is now due here.

It is reported that the Nonpareil amateurs will shortly repeat their late entertainment.

The concert by the Catholic choir will take place at Philharmonic Hall to-morrow evening.

Mr. George W. Minor is now chief forwarding clerk of Wells, Fargo & Co.'s office in this city.

The weather reports from the upper Columbia yesterday were much like those of the day before.

We hear that the mails for Puget Sound are now carried by land car on the N. P. R. R. from Kalama to Tumwater.

The barks Falkenberg received per Orilamme anchors to replace those she recently lost at Sand Island, and she will go to Kalama on Saturday to load for Honolulu.

ABOUT SMITH.

ONE FINE THEATER.—To-night, the really excellent and brilliant drama of "Narcisse, the Vagabond" will be presented for, probably, the last time. This play has besides many highly dramatic situations and delightful literary merit of a high order. The dialogue is piquant and sharp, and frequently witty, and the denouement is intensely affecting. The company has not during the whole season, put on the stage a play more richly deserving a full house. Mr. Waldron appears in a character to which, in our judgment, he does fuller justice than to almost any other in which we have seen him. "The Loan of a Lover" is on the bill for a closing piece.

MUSICAL AND LITERARY.—The students of the Portland Academy and Female Seminary will give a musical and literary entertainment on one of the evenings of this week.

BALL.—The Portland Turn-Verein will give a ball at Philharmonic Hall next Monday evening. Tickets may be had at Allsky & Hegele's, or of any member of the Society.

CATHOLIC CHOIR CONCERT.—Parties wishing to procure reserved seats for this concert can do so by applying at M. Gray's Music Store, corner Alder and First streets.

Fraudulent Misrepresentations.

Among the pernicious frauds of the period, there is one which especially deserves the reprehension of all who place a proper value on health and life. The swindle referred to consists in the attempts of irresponsible parties, in different sections of the United States, to force upon the market vile astringent compounds manufactured out of damaged or worthless drugs and refuse liquor, as preparations possessing the rare medicinal virtues of the most popular and efficacious of all vegetable tonics—Hostetter's Stomach Bitters.

The concoctors of these "local bitters" are, in the truest sense of the phrase, public enemies. Their nefarious schemes subserve the stomach, stupify the brains, and shatter the nerves of those who are unwise enough to accept them as substitutes for the famous vegetable invigorant, that for twenty years has been known throughout the Western Hemisphere as a standard article.

The use of Hostetter's Bitters as a health-preserving plant medicine, is as wide as the world, and the miserable attempts of needy nostrum-mongers to supplant it would be treated with silent contempt, were it not that serious consequences sometimes follow the use of the nefarious compounds in question. Whoever recommends any of them as remedies for Dyspepsia, Biliousness, Consumption, Intermittent Fever, Rheumatism, or any other complaint for which Hostetter's Bitters is a known specific, is guilty of a moral, if not a legal misdemeanor. At this season, when the sun is releasing from the earth, in the form of unwholesome vapors, the active principle of disease, a course of Hostetter's Bitters will be of the utmost service to persons with feeble constitutions.

TESTIMONIALS.

We the undersigned having been the recipients of the services of Mrs. M. C. White in teaching the science of Music on the Pianoforte, take pleasure in giving a hearty Testimonial that we have employed her in our families as a teacher of her "New Method of Instruction," and that it has proven superior to any method we have ever known, and that although the first cost may be a trifle greater than some others, we believe it to be in the aggregate much cheaper, besides being a great economy in point of time. We therefore, take pleasure in recommending her to the patronage of all who may be desirous of obtaining a musical education, as a very superior instructor.

To those who desire to know more about it before increasing any expense, we give a cordial invitation to call at our homes and interview her pupils.

For reference see advertisement.

MRS. M. C. WHITE—Respected Madam—Having heard of your System of teaching the Pianoforte, known as the Robinson American Method, and having been present a few days since, at the exercises of one of your pupils, Miss Lane, of East Portland, I was much surprised and exceedingly gratified, at the perfect performance of the most difficult pieces, (such as Gottschalk's Bango, etc) and this after the short term of six months' tuition.

Allow me to express my approbation of your System of your instruction, and with my best wishes for your success allow me to subscribe myself

LITTLE HOMES!

WE HAVE OBTAINED MANY TESTIMONIALS, which appear in the WEEKLY OREGONIAN, for the purpose of answering once for all the many inquiries in relation to our "LITTLE HOMES." We desire to show to strangers, through men of known integrity in this community that they are all we claim for them—cheap at present prices, and the speculation in them lies in the future growth of Portland, in the building of Railroads, and Bridges over the Willamette—which is enough in a few years of time—and in the fact that in less than one mile distant, City Blocks (200 feet square) are selling for from two to three thousand dollars, and in less than two-and-a-half miles (on a direct line) are selling for from $300 to $500 per block! You think of the $50 per acre for land, and 2½ miles distant, $2000 per acre! New York city is over twenty-miles in length and six miles wide, and many other cities in the United States are half that long, and quite as wide, and if Portland does not become a metropolis, will require this land for business purposes. Thirty years ago we could have purchased a section of land where the business portion of Chicago now stands for $10 per acre—$50 for a five acre tract. Thirty years ago we could have purchased the town site of Portland for 50 cents per foot—as it is, we have the prop! Twenty years ago a military individual, with neither money nor friends, found himself in Portland without a red. He purchased a basket on the tick, and filled it with oranges, on the same terms, and—is peddling! Twenty long, eventful years have since passed. Still that sturdy old pioneer has stuck to Portland, and worked his way through thick and thin, and now where he is worth $1,000,000—in the poor house, and owes for his basket! But to our

TEN-ACRE TRACTS!

The land is level—some timbered and some nearly clear—in altitude about the same as Portland—good roads—plenty of fresh water, and the price is regulated by the quality of the soil and the distance from the city.

Prices:

Five-acre tracts, 1½ miles SE of East Portland $150 00
Ten-acre tracts, " " " " 200 00

NEWSPAPERARCHIVE®

The Daily Oregonian.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, JANUARY 31, 1872.

CITY.

IN THE POLICE COURT.—There were high old times yesterday in the Police Court. The old stagers were not all there—because why: they were in that kindred institution, the jail; but there were all sorts of appropriate substitutes. Kate Stears, an untamed heifer from the "county of death," acknowledged a charge of being drunk and disorderly, and paid ten dollars down. John Wilson and two Chinamen forfeited each ten dollars on a similar charge. Another Chinaman commenced a term of thirty days in the county jail for stealing an axe. Fred. Moss was up on a charge of threatening to kill Charles Desomer, but the charge was not proved, and Fred. was sent away. Charles Decomer was charged with criminal intermeddling in the domestic affairs of Fred. Moss, who has a woman; but he, too, was discharged. Simon Ellis north, a lager beer jerker, was sent to jail for thirty-five days for going through the pockets of Charles Smith, to the tune of $35. And thus and thus to the end of the chapter.

THE SHOOTING ACCIDENT.—The shooting of Mr. J. H. Reed's little boy proves to have been a very serious matter. The pistol ball entered the right breast just above the nipple, and still remains in the body. Yesterday the case was considered, by the attending surgeons, as very dangerous. The shooting was purely accidental. Several boys were playing together at Giles' Lake, having among them a small pistol. One of the boys was trying to cock the weapon when it was accidentally discharged, the ball entering the person of Mr. Reed's boy who happened to be standing before and near by. The little fellow took this matter quite heroically at first, pulling off his coat himself to see how badly he was hurt. He is a bright, intelligent lad, and the unfortunate accident is deeply deplored by all his playmates and the friends of the family. The occurrence furnishes a sad warning to both parents and boys against the practice among the latter of carrying or handling weapons.

DESERTERS APPREHENDED.—A couple of deserters of the Twenty-third Infantry were arrested on board the railroad ferryboat yesterday, just in the act of leaving the city. They left their "kind and friends" in the regiment at Fort Vancouver some time ago, and have been straying around ever since, subsisting upon cold charities when they could get 'em, and when they couldn't 'em by hook or crook. They were attempting, however, to the city. Having heard that their regiment had gone to Arizona, and now they abide in the city jail till they can be turned over to the military authorities. Their names are Jones and Barry.

ARRIVAL OF THE ORIFLAMME.—The steamship Oriflamme, Floyd, Commander, arrived from San Francisco at 6 o'clock last evening. The following is a list of her passengers:

Wm L Haley and wife, Mrs J Dougherty and children, W W Hoare and wife, Mrs D J Brennan, Mrs Hamilton and daughter, Mrs J D Nash and children, D Smith, M Kling, J M Peck, S B Peck, D Coleman and mother, T Aspey, A Jackson, Mr Ballou, S Hualat, E F Lewis, Miss Anna Caffrey, I D Peck, Miss M E Coyle, Mrs S J Baker, H Morgan, Mrs L H Wakefield, Lieut D H B Mead, S S Porter, wife and 2 children, Mrs Irons, H Johnson, D Manley, J W Johnson, wife and child, 32 U S troops and 7 Chinamen.

LAWYER VS. JAIL.—One of our gotham contemporaries has been favored with the details of a recent scene and (not) punishment of a Chinaman in the city jail, for the offence of stealing a pair of pants from a fellow prisoner. Having found the Celestial guilty, the bailiff of the court proceeded to execute the sentence—thirty stripes which were laid on with a flat board, in the old fashioned way, so as to most perhaps effectually bring to mind that this "high" punishment frequently practiced upon new comers, and that sense of the more lawless of the old and regular gang of inmates, have had to be subjected to reverse discipline than mere confinement, as a means of restraint.

DOWN THE RIVER.—The Dixie Thompson arrived from Astoria at six o'clock last evening, having met with no hindering ice. There was very little running at all till the steamer got near to the mouth of the Wallamet. The ship with a piece of our locale call to mind, also that is at St. Helens. She had $10,000 on board but I was not of. The bark Alden B. was above the St. Helens bar, waiting for high tide to try the passage. The tug Governor is coming up after the bark, Whistler. These are the only vessels in the river.

THE GREAT FURNITURE SALE.—The sale of the Hotel furniture was concluded yesterday. Considering all things the goods were well sold. By no means other than an auction could so equal amount of money have been realized for such goods, and Mr. Middlemiss hopes to understand thoroughly how to make the most out of even an auction. He is a new comer among us, but if his enterprise thus far may be taken as an average sample of the man, there is no risk in predicting that he will be a success.

RIFLE DRILLS.—The weather reared round yesterday to the east-by-sou-east, or somewhere in that neighborhood, and made a feeble effort to become genial and showery. The first, certainly of rain, however, was hail, and then the thermometer went down in a very uncomfortable degree and stayed there. Altogether the change was not favorable, and the rain so confidently predicted by some of the weather wise people, is still a thing of the unborn future.

OVERCOAT THIEVES.—Two men were arrested yesterday on Fifth street, on suspicion that they are the persons that stole an overcoat a few nights since, from the store of Mr. Silver. The first one arrested protested that he was not the thief, but he could point out the man who did do the stealing. The second one arrested was the man thus pointed out.

WRESTLING FOR.—The attorneys in the Wrestling Joe case are still rustling the old man around. We see by the Salem Statesman that they have the old gentleman at Salem, for the purpose of procuring depositions. The reporter of that paper thinks he has a becoming "broken down and dilapidated look," whatever that may be.

ACCIDENT TO A YOUNG GIRL.—Yesterday a young girl, one of the pupils of the St. Helen's Hall school, was thrown from a buggy in which she was sitting, and had one of her wrists broken. The horses took sudden fright at something and turning short around, upset the carriage, thus precipitating the girl to the ground.

THE PLANK ROAD ENTERPRISE.—The incorporators of the Portland and Washington County Plank Road Company will hold a meeting next Monday evening to organize, make arrangements for the opening of stock books, etc. The meeting will be at the office of Stitzel & Upton.

FIRE ALARM.—One of the wooden buildings on the east side of Front, between Alder and Morrison, furnished occasion for an alarm and a turn out of the Fire Department. It was a bit much of a fire, however, and the reporters were disgusted.

CONCERT PROGRAMME.—The programme for the concert to be given by the Cathedral Choir and others, appears in our columns in full and corrected from yesterday morning.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

MUSIC.—The evidences of Mrs. M. C. White's success as a teacher of music are constantly multiplying in this community. At the request of some of her patrons we take occasion to say that no one of them regrets having paid her prices for tuition. Mrs. White refers confidently to the progress her pupils have made.

AUCTION SALE.—Mr. Middlemiss proposes to keep things going lively. Next Tuesday he will have another great sale of desirable goods at his sales rooms, No. 8 Front street.

The next school term of the Portland Academy and Female Seminary begins Monday, February 5th. For information apply to

T. F. ROYAL, Principal.

NO CHARGE FOR CONSULTATION.—Dr. Aborn wishes to inform the afflicted that he makes no charge for consultations. His opinion in all cases is given free of charge.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

The market is becoming well supplied with venison.

Another large mail was received last evening per steamer Oriflamme.

The proposed new military company is said to have 48 names on the roll.

A man named Grubb fell on Front street yesterday and broke his ankle.

The Dalles mail carrier had arrived at the Cascades on Monday and is now due here.

It is reported that the Nonpareil amateurs will shortly repeat their late entertainment.

The concert by the Catholic choir will take place at Philharmonic Hall to-morrow evening.

The weather reports from the upper Columbia yesterday were much like those of the day before.

We hear that the mails for Puget Sound are now carried by land car on the N. P. R. R. from Kalama to Pumphrey's.

The bark Falkenburg, received per Oriflamme anchored to replace those she recently lost at Sand Island, and she will go to Rainier on Saturday to load for Honolulu.

AMUSEMENTS.

ORO FINO THEATRE.—To-night, the really excellent and brilliant drama of "Narcisse, the Vagabond" will be presented for, probably, the last time. This play has, beside many highly dramatic sentimental incidents, literary merit of a high order. The dialogue is piquant and sharp, and frequently witty, and the denouement is intensely exciting. The company has not, during the whole season, put on the stage, a play more richly deserving a full house. Mr. Waldron appears in a character to which, in our judgment, he does fuller justice than to almost any other in which we have seen him. "The Loan of a Lover" is on the bill for a closing piece.

MUSICAL AND LITERARY.—The students of the Portland Academy and Female Seminary will give a musical and literary entertainment on one of the evenings of this week.

BALL.—The Portland Turn Verein will give a ball at Philharmonic Hall next Monday evening. Tickets may be had at Allsky & Hegele's, or of any member of the Society.

CATHOLIC CHOIR CONCERT.—Parties wishing to secure reserved seats for this concert can do so by applying at M. Gray's Music Store, corner Alder and First streets.

THE NEW ENGLAND MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY was established in 1835; and is therefore the oldest purely Mutual Life Insurance Company in the United States. It has, of over $10,000,000, and is the only Company on the Pacific Coast insured by the Massachusetts Non-Forfeiture Law, uniting all the advantages of age and prudent management, its average expenses being lower than any other Company in the United States. Fraudulent Misrepresentations.

Among the pernicious frauds of the period, there is one which especially deserves the reprehension of all who place a proper value on health and life. The article referred to consists in the attempts of irresponsible parties, in different sections of the United States, to force upon the market vile astringent compounds manufactured out of decayed or worthless drugs and rotten liquor, as preparations possessing the rare medicinal virtues of the most popular and efficacious of all vegetable tonics—Hostetter's Stomach Bitters.

The concoctors of these "local bitters" are, in the truest sense of the phrase, public enemies. Their fiery potions inflame the stomach, stupefy the brains, and shatter the nerves of those who are unwise enough to accept them as substitutes for the famous Vegetable Invigorant, that for twenty years has been known throughout the Western Hemisphere as a standard article.

The fame of Hostetter's Bitters as a health-preserving vitalizing medicine, is as wide as the world, and the miserable attempts of needy nostrum-mongers, to supplant it would be treated with silent contempt, were it not that serious consequences sometimes follow the use of the nefarious compounds in question. Whoever recommends any of them as remedies for Dyspepsia, Biliousness, Consumption, Intermittent Fever, Rheumatism, or any other complaint for which Hostetter's Bitters is a known specific, is guilty of a moral, if not a legal misdemeanor. At this season, when the sun is releasing from the earth, in the form of unwholesome vapors, the active principle of disease, a course of Hostetter's Bitters will be of the utmost service to persons with feeble constitutions.

TESTIMONIALS.

We the undersigned having been the recipients of the services of Mrs. M. C. White in teaching the science of Music on the Pianoforte, take pleasure in giving a hearty Testimonial that we have employed her in our families as a teacher of her "New Method of Instruction," and that it has proven superior to any other we have ever known. And that although the first cost may be a little greater than some others, we believe it to be in the aggregate much cheaper, besides being a great economy in point of time. We therefore, take pleasure in recommending her to the patronage of all who may be desirous of obtaining a musical education, as a very superior instructor.

To those who desire to know more about it before increasing any expense, we give a cordial invitation to call at our homes and inspect her pupils.

LITTLE HOMES!

WE HAVE OBTAINED MANY TESTIMONIALS, which appear in the Weekly Oregonian, for the purpose of answering once for all the many inquiries in relation to our "LITTLE HOMES." We desire to show to strangers, through men of known integrity in this community that they are all we claim for them—cheap at present prices, and the speculations in them lies in the future growth of Portland, in the building of Railroads, and Bridges over the Willamette—which is merely a question of time—and in the fact that in less than one mile and a half, City Blocks (200 feet square) are selling for from two to three thousand dollars, and in less than two-and-a-half miles (on a direct line) blocks are selling as high as $200,000 per block! Just think of it! $80 per acre for land, and City miles distant, $200,000 per acre! New York city is only twenty miles in length and six miles wide, and many other cities in the United States are half that long, and quite as wide, and if Portland become a metropolis, who will require this land for business purposes. Others said two years ago we could have purchased a section of land where the business portion of Chicago now stands for $10 per acre—$50 for a five acre tract. Thirty years ago we could have purchased the town site of Portland for a few dollars. Just see! Let's have the pony! Twenty years ago a solitary individual, with neither money nor friends, found himself in Portland without a home. He purchased a basket on tick, and filled it with oranges, on the same terms, and went to peddling. Twenty long, eventful years have since passed. Still that sturdy old pioneer has stuck to Portland, and worked his way through thick and thin; and now where do you think he is? —In the poor house, and pass for the basket! But to our DECISION IN THE U. S. DISTRICT COURT.

BY JUDGE DEADY.

The word cattle in its primary sense includes sheep, and it is used in that sense in section 9 of the act of June 30, 1834 (4 stat. 729), prohibiting any person from trespassing Indian lands with "horses, mules or cattle," under a penalty of $1 for each of such animals.

Penal statutes, construction of.

U. S. District Court—District of Oregon.
Saturday, January 27, 1872.

The United States vs. Matlock. Action to recover penalties.

This action is brought under section 9 of the act of June 30, 1834 (4 stat. 729), which enacts, that,—

"If any person shall drive or anywise convey any stock of horses, mules or cattle, to range or feed upon any land belonging to any Indian or Indian tribe, without the consent of such tribe, such person shall forfeit the sum of one dollar for each animal of such stock."

The complaint was filed October 4, 1871, and alleges that the defendant on September 1, 1871, did drive and convey 1800 head of sheep upon the land within the boundaries of the Umatilla reservation, which then belonged to the Wallawalla, Cayuse and Umatilla tribes of Indians, pursuant to the treaty of June 9, 1855, between the United States and such Indian tribes; whereby, etc., defendant became indebted to the plaintiff in the sum of $1 for each head of sheep so driven, etc.

The defendant demurred to the complaint, because it did not state facts sufficient to constitute a cause of action.

On the argument of the demurrer the only reason given in support of it was, that the term cattle as used in the statute does not mean sheep.

I think it is apparent from the following citations that the term in its primary sense, includes sheep and all other animals used by man for labor or food.

Johnson defines cattle thus: "Beasts of pasture not wild nor domesticated."

Richardson says the term is derived from chattels, and signifies bona mobilia or movables. He defines it thus: "Kine, horses and some other animals appropriated to the use of man."

Webster derives it from the Norman French catal or the Old English catel, signifying goods, cattle, movables. In the edition of 1837 it is defined as follows: "Beasts or quadrupeds in general, for tillage or other labor, as for man. In its primar[y] sense, it includes camels, horses, a[sses] and the [gen]us sheep of all kinds and [ages] and perhaps swine. * * * Cattle in the United States, in common usage, signifies only beasts of the bovine genus. Yet it is probable that a horse or ox, killing domestic fowls, or doing other damages, for a trespass committed by cattle breaking into an enclosure, would be adjudged to include horses." But the latest edition gives this definition: "Domestic quadrupeds collectively, especially those of the bovine genus, sometimes also including sheep, goats, horses, mules, asses and swine."

The American Cyclopedia says: "In its primary sense, horses and asses are included in the term as well as oxen, cows, sheep, goats and perhaps swine."

But counsel for the defendant, admitting that the word cattle in its primary sense includes sheep, contends that the word as used in the act is restrained to animals of the horse or mule kind, in deference to the rule of construction given in Smith's Com. p. 740, and cited with approbation in United States vs. Irwin, 6 McLean, 184, "where general words follow an enumeration of particulars, such general words are held to apply only to cases of the same kind as those which are expressly mentioned."

United States vs. Irwin, supra, was an indictment for forgery of a land warrant under the act of March 3, 1825 (4 Stat., 119), which prescribed the punishment for forging any "indent, certificate of public stock, etc., or other public security of the United States. The Court quashed the indictment upon the ground that a land warrant was not embraced in the public instruments enumerated in the act, being evidence of a pecuniary indebtedness only. Inability of the Government to the latter, now in the general phrase, "other public security," because that was restrained by the rule above mentioned to cases of the same kind with those particularly named.

But the case is not parallel in this respect with the one under consideration. To make it so, the act of 1834 should read, "stock of horses, mules or other cattle." Then will good reason it might be said that under the rule of construction that the other animals must be of the same genus or kind with those named—horses and mules—and that sheep, not being of such genus or kind, are not included in the act. And even then it might be plausibly answered, that any animal that would feed upon the grass or herbage which grew upon the Indian land and thereby impoverish it, in respect to the purpose of the act was of the same kind as the horse or mule.

The drift of the Court in construing this act is to ascertain and this intention of Congress is to be ascertained from the mischief which the act is intended to remedy or prevented or remedied by it. [illegible] the act as much [illegible] hardly be presumed [illegible] to impose a penalty [illegible] horses or [illegible] at the [illegible] time permit them [illegible] with sheep with impunity.

Although in its primary sense includes horses and mules, at this day it is not often so applied in the United States. Therefore, I presume, Congress, in framing the act of caution, paraphrased the class of animals and used the word cattle to describe [illegible] it is the [illegible] that [illegible] would be some [illegible] that the general phrase was restrained to other cattle of the horse genus or kind, if there be any such.

But here the term cattle is not used merely to round a period, or as an expletory embellishment of what precedes it, but as an independent and particular enumeration of a class of subjects in addition to those already named.

It is also urged that this is a penal statute and therefore to be strictly constitued. The rule as stated is admitted. But nothing more is meant by it than that such a statute shall not be extended, by what is known as equitable construction, to cases other than those which clearly appear to have been intended by the Legislature, are fairly included in the language used to express such intention. The intention, then, of the Legislature is as proper a subject of inquiry for the Court in the case of a penal statute as any other; and that intention when ascertained by applying the usual rules of construction is to govern in the one case as well as the other. The Enterprise (1 Paine, 89); United States vs. Wiltberger (5 Wheat., 95); Am. Fur Co. vs. United States (2 Pet., 367); United States vs. Winn (3 Sum., 219); United States vs. Morris (14 Pet., 464).

In this case it is manifest that the Legislature intended to prevent Indian lands from being used by white people as pasture grounds for their stock, without the consent of the Indians. It will not be denied, that sheep are as much within the mischief to be remedied as horses or oxen. The term used in the act—cattle—in its general and primary sense includes sheep. The term is also often used in common parlance, in the United States, in a narrower sense to signify only animals of the bovine genus. The being so, the Court must construe the act and declare in what sense the term is used therein, and in so doing, it is not justified in restricting the language used to any particular class of animals comprehended in the general term cattle, because the act is a penal one.

In United States vs. Winn, supra, Mr. Justice Story says—"But when the words are general, and include various classes of persons, I know of no authority which would justify the Court in restricting them to one class, or in giving them the narrowest interpretation, when the mischief which is to be redressed by the statute is equally applicable to all of them. And where a word is used in a statute, which has various known significations, I know of no rule that requires the Court to adopt one in preference to another, simply because it is more restrained, if the objects of the statute equally apply to the largest and broadest sense of the word. In short, it appears to me, that the proper course in all these cases is, to search out and follow the true intent of the Legislature, and to adopt that sense of the words, which harmonizes best with the context, and promotes best with the subject matter, and the apparent policy and objects of the Legislature."

Bearing in mind the rule that the language of the act and the mischief to be remedied by it, must both be considered in ascertaining "the true intent of the Legislature," I have no hesitation in coming to the conclusion that the word "cattle" as used in the Indian intercourse act of 1834 includes and was intended to include sheep as well as cows and oxen.

The demurrer is overruled. DEADY, J.

Joseph N. Dolph, for plaintiff.
Orlando Humason, for defendant.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

TUESDAY EVENING, Jan. 30th, 1872.

Gold in New-York: 106¾.

Portland Legal Tender quotations, 90½c buying and 91½c selling.

The duties on imports collected at this port during the year 1871 aggregate $213,353 65.

The steamer Oriflamme, with passengers and cargo from San Francisco, arrived this evening.

The bark Wachilles outward manifest can be found below.

The barks Metis and Chetah are expected up towards the last of the week.

As there existed some apprehension in the minds of ship-owners regarding the power of the tug boat Ben Holladay, she to-day started it by towing up the river one of the largest rafts of logs ever towed up.

The steamer Oriflamme is announced to leave on Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock for San Francisco.

We are informed that the general impression prevailing in the interior that the cold weather for the winter is now past and, with the present moderate weather, caused renewed preparations for ploughing, and that in some instances farmers have already commenced operations.

Our merchants are depending upon the agriculture of the State more than to any one branch of our industry for the sale and prosperous trade enjoyed by them. They should, therefore, by every means in their power facilitate and foster every enterprise calculated to benefit farmers, for by so doing all are directly benefitted. What will benefit the farmers more than direct shipments? Allowing that parties in San Francisco making purchases for the United Kingdom or the Continent, buy in this market and ship to San Francisco, there to be reshipped to destination, are not shippers thus shipping, owing to the several different charges incurred which would not be incurred by shipping direct from this port, necessarily compelled to pay less in our market than they would if there was enough vessels coming here to make direct shipments practicable? The better the facilities are for shipping the cheaper can tonnage be obtained, and of course the more are shippers enabled to pay for wheat. We give it to ourselves to encourage direct shipments by sail from Atlantic and European ports, and if the interior merchants of Portland would look at this matter in its true light, they would see the necessity of confining themselves as much as possible in their purchases to those firms shipping direct. Goods purchased East and in Europe for the market and shipped to San Francisco, there to be reshipped here, buys but a very small percentage over purchases made in San Francisco direct from importers, and as a State we derive very little advantage from such importations. If, as is [illegible] enough goods purchased in the East or consigned from Eastern manufacturers for this market, shipped via San Francisco, to warrant one or more vessels coming here every year from New York. What we require, aside from cheap goods, and which is more important, is to have vessels coming here direct, fitted for the grain trade, so that our farmers may obtain higher prices for their produce, which will act as an incentive for them to put more land in cultivation. Our merchants should run hand in hand in all enterprises calculated to develop the resources of the State. Enough trade can be centered here for their profit, if shippers would but do so. To accomplish this a combined action on their part is absolutely necessary. Now that trade is beginning to center here we should by every means in our power endeavor to retain it, and one of the best means by which this may be effected is to make direct shipments. We will concede, for argument's sake, that prices obtained in San Francisco will remunerate farmers, and it is, in there not great danger that interior merchants will be drawn to seek that market instead of ours? Not that they can do so to advantage now, for the demand for direct shipments from this port has been and is still too active, but they may, if the number of grain vessels coming here is lessened, and purchases made in this market by parties to go to San Francisco for shippers. It is [illegible] that farmers and [illegible] shippers may seek that market, we at the same time affirm that shippers can and do pay more for grain in this market to ship direct to European ports than can be obtained for the same grain in San Francisco, when we take into consideration the additional costs.
